

Angell Fine Arts, Ltd.

Winter 2007

What an excellent summer! Long sunny days and cool nights. I couldn't have asked for anything better. Elizabeth, Sarah, and I have been busy working on your images, albums, framing, decor and bringing new artists to Angell Gallery. We now have 10 artists' work. Not only can we photograph your family, but help you frame the images, choose paint color for your walls, suggest furnishing arrangements and we can help you build your art collections. It is going to be an exciting year! Please look for our special mailings.

Birches

Jack Holowitz

Coonamessett

Ryan Young

Angell Gallery

All summer we have searched for artists for Angell Gallery. We've found a wonderful collection of 10 artists from throughout the New England. On display are photographs, monotypes, etchings, pencil drawings, giclees, mixed media, and pastels in every artistic style imaginable. Situated on Ruth's property on the Green River in East Greenwich, the setting is a brilliant backdrop for the artwork and the events we are holding there this year. Watch your mail for invitations and always feel free to call us to make an appointment to visit the gallery for a private showing. 401-885-4065

Wall Design

Using your walls to tell a story can help capture the memory of time in your family's life. You can use your wall to highlight a specific year, place or event. Your wall design can gradually grow with your family. Here's how to get started: Measure your wall. Consider any furniture or light switches and light fixtures. Next, you'll need to decide the sizes of your photographs. Grouping smaller photographs around a larger central photograph can allow you to show candid details along side a more traditional portrait. Coordinating your framing is as important as choosing your images. You should choose frames that work well together, but aren't necessarily the same profile. Most picture frame companies carry "families" of frames with different shapes and widths. Choosing classic frames will ensure that you should always be able to find frames to integrate into your wall design for years to come.

688 Frenchtown Road Suite 3 East Greenwich, Rhode Island 02818
www.angellfineart.com studio@angellphoto.com 401-885-4065

Friends and Family

Family and Friends, that is what it is all about. Sharing precious moments and stories with the ones that you love. I am honored to help families tell their stories. Whether it is a new baby, birthday, marriage or just a family gathering, there is no better time to capture those special moments. The fall is upon us, bringing crisp weather and wonderful colors. The holidays are just around the corner, so reserve your photography time now.

Operation Smile

When it comes to choosing your images, it's hard!

There are so many photographs and so many of them are great. But you don't have to choose just a few for wall portraits and framing. A family album can capture as many of the images as you want. The goal when creating an album is to tell a story, by using a compilation of many sessions. It could reflect a particular year in your child's life, your child's last year before leaving for college, or a few years that were most important to you. It can also include photographs from just one session that you found particularly memorable. The album becomes an heirloom that your children can show their grandchildren. At Angell Fine Arts, Ltd. we offer a variety of custom albums, from classic library bound to contemporary fabric bound. You can work with our album designer to customize the album. Call to schedule a time to start creating your family heirloom.

A child's smile is a beautiful thing. Portrait month is October. We are proud to be involved with a national campaign to support the efforts of "Operation Smile." Funds help to change the life of children with facial deformities, especially cleft palette. Fees from sessions booked in October will be directed to Operation Smile. These sessions can be either in studio or at a location of your choice. Please help us support a wonderful cause. Call for your time now. Space is limited! 401-885-4065.

Anyone up for portraits in the snow? There have been recent requests to venture out in the cold and spend time with families doing winter activities. I am happy to hike, ski, snowshoe or just plain hang out with you and photograph your family's winter story. Reserve your time now. Travel available.